

Post-Pandemic: Welcoming Parishioners Back to Church

As vaccination rates increase and social distancing and mask mandates decrease across the U.S., there will be a desire to return to regular worship – this has already been evident during the Lenten season and Pascha.

What does post-pandemic church look like? How do we leverage what we've learned during these tumultuous 14 months? What remains and what should change? These are just a few of the many questions parishes are asking.

Steve Tibbs of St. Paul Greek Orthodox Church in Irvine, CA has not only begun answering these questions but has created a plan for parishes that he is going to share with the Metropolis of Chicago on June 1 at 7 PM during the monthly 'Strengthen Stewardship Now' video conference.

Steve is a strategic planning expert who has worked with parishes across the multiple Orthodox jurisdictions in the U.S. and currently leads the Orthodox Parish Leadership ministry for the Metropolis of San Francisco. Please plan to join the discussion.

Register in advance for this meeting:

<https://zoom.us/meeting/register/tJcvd-6urj8tGNe2Q9Dw3uNUhY75Z-x-35b->

After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.